Every family deserves the opportunity to thrive during pregnancy, birth, and the transition into parenthood; yet many mothers, infants, and caregivers continue to face barriers to accessing the support, education, and resources they need during this critical time.

That is why we are excited to host the inaugural Perinatal Health & Wellness Conference on June 11-13, 2027 at the Best Western Dutch Haus Inn in Columbiana. This gathering will bring together healthcare professionals, mental health providers, educators, community organizations, doulas, lactation consultants, mamas, and advocates who share a common goal: supporting healthier outcomes for mothers, babies, and families throughout our region. More than a professional conference, this event is an opportunity to strengthen connections, share knowledge, inspire innovative approaches to care, and build a community dedicated to improving perinatal health and well-being. We anticipate approximately 150 attendees who are passionate about making a meaningful difference in the lives of families.

We invite you to join us as a sponsor and partner in this important work. Your support will help create an accessible, high-quality learning experience while demonstrating your organization's commitment to maternal and infant health. Together, we can foster collaboration, elevate best practices, and invest in healthier futures for the families we serve.
